General Information.

Central Wesleyan College was founded by the German Methodists of the West, and is under the patronage of the St. Louis German and the Western German Conferences. It is denominational, but not sectarian. Hundreds of young ladies and gentlemen of the various denominations have availed themselves of the privileges here so liberally offered.

The prosperity of our school during these 29 years has been of a permanent and healthy growth. The number of our patrons and friends is steadily increasing and God is opening hearts and purses to meet the growing wants and requirements. Our successful past should but serve as a new impetus for us and all our friends to increased zeal and greater faithfulness in the important work of thorough Christian education for our German American youth.

AIM.

Central Wesleyan College makes a liberal Christian education equally attainable to all. It aims to meet the wants of all classes of students, and to help them in their efforts to prepare themselves for their mission in life. It, however, recognizes the fact, that a large majority of those seeking a liberal culture, come from the laborer's home, from the farm and the shop; and therefore it has reduced expenses as low as possible, so that the poorest youth need not be deprived of the benefits of a thorough education. From the first, ladies have been admitted on the same terms as gentlemen to all the departments and privileges of the College.

DISTINCTIVE FEATURE.

A characteristic feature of the College is the attention which is paid to German. Its facilities for giving students not only a theoretical, but a practical mastery of the language, are unequaled by any college in the West. The majority of the students are of German parentage. German is used as a medium of instruction in about one-fourth of the classes. One of the literary societies of the College conducts its exercises entirely in the German language. All of the Professors understand German, and three of them completed their education in Germany.

LOCATION.

The College is located at Warrenton, Mo., sixty miles northwest of St. Louis, on the Wabash and Western Railway, which makes connections at all prominent and intermediate points, North, South, East and West.

The location is high and healthy, in a pleasant part of the State, on the dividing ridge, separating the Missouri and Mississippi Rivers.

The College has a large and commodious three-story brick building, which supplies rooms for chapel, recitation, museum and library purposes. The five buildings belonging to the College are situated in a beautiful grove of maples and forest trees, and present a very attractive and homelike appearance.

REMARKS ON THE COURSES.

CLASSICAL COURSE.

Students completing this course will receive the degree of Bachelor of Arts.

SCIENTIFIC COURSE.

This embraces the same studies as the classical course, with the exception of Latin and Greek, for which German and French are substituted.

Students who prefer, may, by permission, substitute Latin for French. Lessons in Drawing are required. On completing this course the degree of Bachelor of Science is granted.

LITERARY COURSE.

In this course less Latin and Mathematics are required; instead there will be found History, German and French. It leads to the degree of Bachelor of Literature.

Students are earnestly advised to choose one of these regular courses, since they furnish the most thorough discipline and offer the best preparation for later professional study. If, however, students do not desire to complete a course, they may, by permission of the faculty, enter any class for which they are prepared.

NORMAL COURSE.

An object of the School is to give young ladies and gentlemen an opportunity to prepare themselves to become efficient teachers in English, German, or English-German Schools. For this purpose a Normal Course of two years has been organized, offering special advantages to those intending to teach. This course, in addition to the common branches, includes the practically more useful of the higher branches, and is thus suited to many, who, for want of means or other reasons, cannot complete the higher courses.

Students in this course are required to take Drawing and Vocal Music at least one year, and at least single entry Book-keeping.

Any student completing the Normal Course will receive a diploma as a Normal Graduate.

THEOLOGICAL COURSE.

Students desiring to prepare for the ministry will find a complete Theological Course laid down. Since the studies are taken in German, it is not deemed necessary to give the course in the English catalogue.

COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT.

In this department special facilities are offered for gaining a thorough knowledge of everything pertaining to mercantile life. The course includes Book-keeping, Commercial Law, Business Arithmetic, Grammar, Spelling, Business Correspondence and Penmanship. To complete the course and receive a Diploma attesting his proficiency, the student must pass satisfactory examinations on the first six subjects and write a good business hand. With the requisite preparatory knowledge, the course can be completed in six months.

BOOK-KEEPING.

The course embraces the theory of accounts by single and double entry. The student becomes familiar with day-book and journal entries, opening and closing the ledger, making trial balances, financial statements etc., with books and forms as used in retailing, wholesaling, commission, shipping, partnership, banking and other kinds of business. Correct, neat, and business-like work is required to pass in this department. — Crittenden's Book-keeping is used.

COMMERCIAL LAW.

The study of this branch embraces the subjects of contracts, negotiable paper, agency, partnerships, sales, warranties, guaranties, liens, common carriers etc. The object is to give the student such a knowledge of the law in regard to these subjects as will enable him to transact business so as to protect his interests.

PENMANSHIP.

We aim to teach our students plain and rapid business penmanship. The instruction is given by an experienced penman by means of black-board illustration and copies written by himself.

Students receive individual as well as class instruction. Weekly drills are also given throughout the year in all kinds of business correspondence as: Letters, notes receipts, drafts, orders, checks etc.

SHORTHAND AND TYPEWRITING.

Opportunities are also given in this department to acquire a knowledge of the principles of Shorthand and Typewriting for office work and correspondence. The latest and most approved systems are taught.

ESSAYS.

During the past year the school was divided into six sections for rhetorical purposes. Weekly essays were required of all. A similar arrangement will be maintained for the coming year.

ORATORICAL CONTESTS.

Through the kindness of Rev. O. E. Kriege and an unknown friend two prizes of $25 each were offered for the best orations in English and German during the past year. The result of the contests was that D. S. Wahl took the prize for the best English oration, and Wm. Pommerenke for the best German. Such an interest was awakened by these contests that they will be continued in the future.

READING COURSE.

Few students have had an opportunity, before going to college, to form a taste for good reading. At college they may devote themselves so exclusively to their text-books that here too they fail to acquire that love for literature which is so essential to real culture. To partially meet this difficulty a course of parallel reading will be required of all students in the future.

For the next year the books are as follows:

First Term: Bunyan's Pilgrim's Progress or Burk's Luther.

Second Term: Irvings Sketch Book or Pestalozzi's Lienhard und Gertrud.

Third Term: Selections from Longfellow or Goethe's Hermann und Dorothea.

DEPARTMENT OF MUSIC.

This Department has at all times compared favorably with that of other good schools in the country. For the coming year the courses have been re-arranged and improved, and it now offers, if possible, better advantages than ever before to those desiring a thorough musical education. Advanced pupils receive class instruction in theory and in the history of music. The various ensemble classes, recitals, and concerts afford opportunities for playing in public, thereby securing confidence and self-possession to the performer. The weekly meetings of the Beethoven Association in its two divisions — the Chorus and the Orchestra — also supply a very important means of musical culture. At the end of the year, a Graduating Recital is required of those completing a course.

COURSES.

MILITARY TACTICS.

The Faculty has organized a department in Military Tactics. The military drill is entered into with the enthusiastic spirit of a soldier and gives the student the best physical exercise, because it is acquired in a pleasant frame of mind. It also furnishes a moral culture of scarcely less value than the bodily exercise it affords. It helps materially in training boys to habits of obedience, prompt, unquestioned, and which boys feel to be manly. It developes a manly spirit in a boy, invigorates both body and mind, makes him more graceful and gentlemanly in his bearing and helps to fit him to be a good citizen.

Sixty stands of arms with all accompanying accoutrements have been secured from the Governor of the State of Missouri, and they are kept in a suitable Armory in charge of Prof. Frohardt, who has been appointed Quartermaster. The Faculty appoints all officers and the drills are all to be under the supervision of Prof. Jno. H. Frick, the Commander, or some one appointed by him. A deposit of one dollar with the Treasurer will be required of each cadet on entering the company as a gurantee for the proper use of the arms and accoutrements, and will be refunded at the end of the year if the student has a clear record as a soldier.

During the past year a company of about 40 cadets have been receiving instruction. The following are the officers: Captain and Drill Master, Otto Ponath; First Lieutenant, D. S. Wahl; Second Lieutenant, E. Weiffenbach; First Sergeant, E. Hoefer. Uniforms can be obtained here at prices ranging from $8 to $14.25.

SOCIETIES.

The Beethoven Association unites the musical talent in the school for harmonious action and supplies the music for literary entertainments and concerts.

Three Societies enable students to engage in various kinds of literary exercises, and to gain practically a familiarity with parliamentary law.

The Goethenian Society consists of young men, who, in all their society exercises, use only the English language.

The Germania-Verein, consisting also of young men, permits only German to be used within its Hall.

The Garfield Society offers special advantages to younger students.

The Union Temperance Society has held regular public meetings during the year.

The societies are in a flourishing condition, and are considered a very important addition to the ordinary school work.

The Reading Room Association keeps a number of the best Journals, Magazines and Papers, in both English and German. Students thus have an opportunity of becoming familiar with current events and the literature of the day.

LECTURES.

During the year a course of lectures on various subjects will be given, as announced, by members of the faculty and by distinguished gentlemen from abroad.

For the past year the course was as follows:

Rev. N. Shumate, D. D : Pioneer Methodism in the West.
Prof. Henry Vosholl: Success.
Prof. J. L. Kessler: The Industrial Unrest.
Rev. Chas. Ott: Originality.
Rev. Jesse B. Young, D. D.: The World of to-day.
Rev. J. P. Masden, D. D.: The Philosophy of Happiness.

TERMS OF ADMISSION.

Applicants for admission must be of good moral character. Pupils may be admitted to classes in the Preparatory Course at any time during the year; but applicants for admission to the classes of the advanced courses should be present, if at all possible, at the beginning of the year.

No pupil will be admitted to recitations who has not been examined and graded.

Upon entering, students must matriculate and comply with the financial requirements.

Entering and continuing in the school is regarded as a pledge on the part of the pupil, to comply with all its rules and regulations.

EXAMINATIONS.

1. The preliminary examination may be both oral and written. Students will be admitted to any class upon passing a satisfactory examination in the preceding studies of the course.

2. At the close of each term there are written examinations, and at the close of the third term there is, in addition, a public oral examination in some branches. Reports of the average standing and deportment of each pupil are made out at the end of each term.

Four years are contemplated as the time necessary to complete the Classical, Scientific or Literary Course of study. All candidates must possess a good moral character, and must have passed satisfactory examinations in the studies of their respective courses.

All candidates who obtain the required standard, will receive the degree of A. B., B. S. or B. L. Diplomas are also granted to students completing the Theological, Musical, Normal, Business, or German Course.

Candidates for the degree of A. M. or M. S, must apply to the President before the close of the school year, and deposit the required fee.

LIBRARY.

The Library contains about 4100 Volumes of reference and miscellaneous books, which are proving of great use to students in their work. During the present year about 100 volumes were added by purchase and by donations. A card catalogue and an index to the magazines in our collection greatly increase the efficiency of the Library. A term-fee of 50 cents is required from all students for Library purposes. Donations of books, pamphlets, magazines, etc., received with thanks. Library donations for the present year amount to 40 volumes.

APPARATUS.

The School is supplied with the necessary apparatus to illustrate and explain the subjects of Physics and Chemistry by means of experiments. Students in Astronomy have the use of a six foot five inch diameter refracting telescope. An excellent Engineer's transit also enables students in surveying to do practical work.

MUSEUM.

The Museum contains a large number of specimens, charts, etc., illustrating mineralogy, geology and zoology, and applied sciences; skeletons and charts are provided for teaching physiology, and a Herbarium for students in Botany.

It is hoped that the friends of the College will take an interest in this department, and assist us in making our collections as complete and valuable as possible.

TUITION.

Tuition charges will not be made for less than a term, unless a student enters after the close of the third week.

No allowance made for any absence less than half a month at one time. When caused by sickness or other good reason, one-half of the regular prices will be charged.

When students, on account of sickness, are compelled to leave the school, tuition fees and the amount of board which have been paid in advance, will be refunded. Full tuition, however, will be charged those who, for any other reason, leave before the end of the term or school year. At least one month's tuition will be charged in all cases.

BOARDING DEPARTMENT.

The charges for board, light and fuel are only $2.50 per week, making the total expense as low as in Institutions where the students board themselves in clubs. In the catalogues of such institutions generally the cost of board only is given, and nothing is said about the expenses for room-rent, furniture, fuel, lights, beds and bedding, and washing the same. All these with but few exceptions (see below) are furnished at the College for $2.50 per week. Students also avoid all the care, trouble and inconveniences which pertain to a boarding club, and can devote their whole time to study. Securing supplies, cooks, kitchen furniture, fuel, etc., give them no care or anxiety whatever.

The College is in possession of large, commodious buildings containing private rooms for pupils, and hence a large number of students can have their rooms and get their meals at the institution, and so be entirely under the supervision of the Faculty and Officers of the school.

ROOMS.

Each room is furnished with the necessary furniture with the exception of mirrors, blankets, pillows and feather beds. These must be furnished by the students themselves. They must also furnish their own toilet soap and lamp chimneys. Blankets will be furnished at the rate of 25 cents each per term. Each building will be supplied with bathing facilities for the coming year.

If any one wishes to occupy a room alone, he must pay extra charges for the same. The Boarding Department and rooms for students are in close proximity to the College, requiring little or no exposure in winter, and surrounded by pleasant grounds and beautiful shade trees, making it delightful in warm weather.

YOUNG LADIES' HOME.

To accommodate the large and constantly increasing numbers of young ladies, there is a commodious "Ladies' Home." It is beautifully situated, has nicely furnished study and sleeping rooms, and offers to young ladies an agreeable and pleasant home. Young ladies rooming here, are under the special care of the matron.

Board, lodging, light and fuel cost $3.00 per week.

REDUCTION OF EXPENSES.

A number of students who board at the College Boarding Department will have an opportunity to work, and thereby reduce their expenses considerably.

TEXT BOOKS.

Text books and stationery can be bought at the College at reduced prices for cash.

DEPOSIT OF MONEY.

Money can be deposited with the President for safe-keeping. Parents will do well to note the fact. For many reasons it is not good for young persons to have control of large sums of money. The consequences are generally evil.

BOTH SEXES ADMITTED.

Central Wesleyan College admits students of both sexes to all branches taught in the school. Experience has shown that co-education of the sexes is for the mutual advantage of both. In this way some of the advantages of a well regulated family life may be secured, while at school. But students of both sexes are not allowed to board in the same private family, without the permission of the President. The association of the two sexes outside of the school room is forbidden. Students are expected to note this fact and govern themselves accordingly.

DISCIPLINE.

The discipline of the School is mild and in accordance with moral and Christian principles. Unnecessary strictness and severity will be avoided. In cases where pupils refuse to be governed by mild means, and admonitions, warnings and reprimands are disregarded, suspension, dismissal or expulsion will be resorted to, in order to preserve the good name of the school, and to preserve others from being injured by their bad example. No student who uses intoxicating drinks, swears, or is guilty of any other gross misconduct, is allowed to remain in the College.

We can assure parents and children, pastors and societies, that we earnestly seek the good of those intrusted to our care, and, while it may happen, that some few who have been here, honor neither themselves nor us, the results of our methods in general have been good and blessed of God.

Any further information in regard to the School or its arrangements will be gladly given. The correspondence of all interested parties is therefore earnestly solicited.

They are much easier to run and more satisfactory in every way than some of the noted Illinois machines which I have tried."
